TO BE SOLD,

THREE or four lots of about 30 or 40 acres each, more or less as may suit a purchaser. On each of which there is a good situation for a house—viz. one on the river Delaware, suitable either for a gentleman's seat or for a person who might wish to engage in the lumber business having a good landing. One commanding a good view of the river from the highest ground between the Pennypack and Poguessin creeks; and another on the Bristol Road. Enquire of Mr. Gilpin near the 11 mile stone on the said road.

ALSO

FOUR LOTS,

Of about 10 acres each with good situations for building; one of which is suitable for a tan-yard, and has a small stone house and a young bearing orchard on it, on the Newtown road near Snider's mill about 10 miles from Philadelphia, and one other lot of about 30 acres on the Pensaypack.—Enquire of Jonathan Clift who lives on the premises or of Mr. Gilpin.

Possession will be given in the spring, but building materials may be collected before.

TO THE PATRONAGE OF
A liberal and enlightened Community
IS SUBMITTED
THE PROSPECTUS
OF
A New Daily Paper,
TO BE PUBLISHED UNDER THE TITLE OF THE OBSERVER,
AND
Daily Repository of useful Information.

IT will doubtless be deemed a hazardous undertaking to present to the public eye proposals for a new Gazette, when so many are already in possession of the public patronage.

News-papers so much more generally diffused throughout America than perhaps any other portion of the globe, may become either engines of mischief or the implements of usefulness—they disseminate good, or scatter poison, among thousands; and although it may be presumptuous in the Editor of this now proposed to expect that its utility will be great, yet he may be admitted to declare, that it shall not willingly be made the means of doing evil.

His endeavors will be applied to render The Observer in some degree conducive to the attainment of knowledge as well as to the communication of news—to enlighten the understanding—to improve the [illegible] to beget, or to confirm, a reverence for the sacred principles of Christianity.

For this purpose it is intended

To furnish the most recent foreign and domestic intelligence;
To give useful Prices Current at home and abroad, and other commercial information;
To select from literary productions such portions as may gratify taste and produce improvement;
To unfold and enforce sound and just views of government:
To aid the great interests of piety and morality.
To present occasionally—
Improvements in the arts and sciences—in agriculture and domestic economy;
Proceedings of the General and State Legislatures;
Reports of the Heads of Departments, and of interesting cases adjudged in the several courts of the United States, &c.
Reviews of foreign and domestic literature;
Anecdotes and characters of distinguished personages:
Statistical [illegible]
Marriages, Births, Deaths &c.

With these proposals the subscriber diffidently submits himself to the public. He is well aware of the importance and magnitude of the undertaking Solicitous for the fate of his native land, and viewing with anxious fears and hopes the success of a government created by the joint exertions of wisdom and virtue, and conducted with sound policy and genuine patriotism, he feels himself sincerely interested in promoting such measures and principles as he believes essential to public happiness and national prosperity.

CONDITIONS.

I. The Observer shall be printed with a neat type, and on paper of equal size and quality with the present Philadelphia daily papers.

II. It shall be published every evening, and regularly sent to the houses of the city subscribers—To others it will be forwarded according to their respective instructions.

III. The price will be Eight Dollars per annum to those who reside in the city—and Nine Dollars to all others. The additional dollar is to defray the expence of enclosing and directing their papers.

IV. One half of the price to be paid at the time of subscribing [illegible] another half at the expiration of [illegible] from the publication of the first number. The succeeding payments [illegible]

V. Advertisements do not exceed in length the breadth of the column will be 67 cents for the first, and 33 cents for every additional insertion. Those of greater length will be charged in the same proportion.

The Year 1800 is arrived!

UNION TAVERN,

In George Town, upon the Potomak, is
FOR SALE,
Upon the premises, on the first Monday in May next.

THIS Tavern was built by the subscription of a number of gentlemen as a necessary and useful improvement to the town—It cost 16000 dollars in the year 1796 when materials and workmanship were much cheaper than at this time. The terms of subscription were that it should be sold to the highest bidder on the day above mentioned.

It is a handsome, substantial brick building, of three stories, fronting sixty feet on the most public street in the town, and running back sixty three feet upon a wide and convenient street—The house is admirably calculated for a tavern. It contains upon the first or four large rooms, one of them 30 by 20 feet and another 23 by 20, besides a large bar and dressing room, upon the second floor is an elegant assembly room, 60 by 30 feet, and three convenient lodging rooms. Upon the third floor are ten excellent lodging rooms—the garrat admits of a division of ten more. There is also a good kitchen and commodious cellars sufficient for such a house. Passages and cross passages intersect the house in such a manner as to make each room private.

There are Stables sufficient for the accommodation of fifty horses, with convenient sheds for carriages—attached to the building are three lots of 60 feet by 120 each, which front on three streets, and in the back yard and not 20 yards from the kitchen is a copious and never failing spring of most excellent running water.

The nature of improvements and their convenience to the city of Washington must render this property a most desirable acquisition to any person who may wish to carry on a tavern upon an extensive scale. The immediate removal of the government of the United States must receive to it full and complete custom.

The terms of sale are, one third in cash—one third in 120 days and the other third in 240 days, to be secured by approved notes negotiable at the Bank of Columbia or at either of the Banks in Baltimore, possession to be given on the day of sale and a perfect title made clear, of all incumbrances, on the last payment being made.

NO RISK!

To Merchants, Store Keepers and Tradesmen in general, &c.

[You will oblige me by reading this advertisement throughout]

I RESPECTFULLY invite you either to the City Tavern, Hardy's Hotel, Francis' Hotel, the Indian Queen, Dunwoody's Tavern, the Franklin's Head, or to the George, to examine a specimen of Rowlett's Tables of Discount or Interest, on every Dollar, from 1 to 2,000; on every ten, from 2000 to 2500; on every fifty from 2500 to 3000; and on every five hundred from 3000 to 5000; from one day to 64 days inclusive, at six per cent. comprising in the whole, upwards of one hundred and thirty two thousand one hundred and fifty calculations of discount; all performed according to the equitable principles of the Banks, and as practised between individuals throughout the United States; being a perfect standard on the subject: with notes, shewing how to use the tables at five, seven and eight per cent. reckoning either 360 or 365 days to the year, and the mode of calculation on cents; to which is added, the principles of computation of the various exchanges between each State respectively, and between these and London and Paris, at different rates of exchange.

The work is dedicated, by permission, to the President and Directors of the Bank of North America, and has already received the patronage of JOHN ADAMS, President of the United States; of THOMAS JEFFERSON, Vice President of the United States and President of the Senate; of a large number of the Senators and Members of the House of Representatives of the United States; and of the Presidents and Directors of the different Banks unanimously:—a list of the whole is printed and attached to the specimen book.

The preface to the specimen explains, among other matters, the methods to be pursued to render the work perfectly accurate—and gentlemen who will reflect on those methods will agree in the fact. Every one will acknowledge the arduousness of the undertaking.

The expences, independent of any compensation for my trouble, will require a sum between three and four thousand dollars, which is two much to hazard—all must depend therefore upon a general subscription; for unless fifteen hundred subscribers are obtained, it would certainly be imprudent to execute the work.

Subscribers can run no risk, as the book (which will be quarto, from 200 to 225 pages, or more—price two dollars) is not to be paid for until delivered rigorously conformable to my engagements expressed in the conditions affixed to the specimen, which consists of six detached pages of the work.

A table of all the post towns in the United States, and some other useful information (not expressed in the title) will follow the computations of exchanges between this country and England and France; and provided, gentlemen, that a sufficient number of you come forward and subscribe, a further addition shall be made of the coins and money of account of the principal maritime trading places in Russia, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Prussia, Poland, Germany, Holland, Flanders, Spain, Portugal, Italy, and in several of the windward and leeward West India Islands, the whole reduced to dollars and cents; and the mode of computing the exchange with these places explained; also, a large sheet table of calculations at compound interest at 6 per cent. to which the notes for 5, 7 and 8 per cent will apply—the tables used in banks for the determination of the value of gold; and the interest for each month from one to twelve months, which will make the work still more acceptable to persons living in the country as well as in town; and upon the whole, I am confident, that this book will be found as generally useful and convenient as any matter of fact-performance that ever entered a counting house or store.

It is not sufficient that an individual (considering himself but one) shall conclude, instead of subscribing, to purchase the book when published, as some of the members of the House of Representatives of the United States have done; for, however much I am obliged to these, the the loss of many ONES' subscriptions may lose me the race, and the book may never be published. I repeat, that nothing is to be paid in advance,

And am, very respectfully,
Gentlemen,
Your humble servant,
JOHN ROWLETT,
Accomptant Bank North America.

Postscript.—Gentlemen who have business at either of the Banks, or at the Philadelphia Library, will have an opportunity of subscribing there, as well as at the Taverns, &c. before mentioned.

Copy right secured according to act of Congress.

Eighty Dollars Reward.

RAN-AWAY from the Subscriber, at Newtown, Chester Ferry, Queen Anne's county, state of Maryland, the following negroes, viz. a woman named Nanny, went away on the 23d January, 1799, and took with her a Mulatto female child, about two years old, named Arianna. Nanny is a dark yellow negro, about five feet four or five inches high, remarkably handsome for a negro. Her cloathing unknown as she took a variety of good cloaths with her—she went off with a negro fellow, named Peter, and calls himself Peter Simpson, he is the property of a certain William Bowers of Talbot county, state as above, who has advertised one hundred dollars reward for him. Peter is a stout well made yellow fellow, about 6 feet one inch high, is a tolerable good Carpenter. Nanny passes for his wife, but her real husband is named Bob, who belongs to her master. It is probable they are in the neighbourhood of Salem in the Jersies, as they were there in October last, and by information, Peter had built himself an house to live in, between Rum Bridge and Gold Town; it is likely they may have changed their names and may have passes, as Peter can write a middling hand; it is probable Nanny has another child, as it was thought she was in a pregnant state when she went away.

The noted Ferry-man Charles, who calls himself Charles Rodney; he went off on the 18th of February last, he is a dark mulatto, about five feet eight or nine inches high, about forty years old, stoops in his shoulders when he walks, a scar on his head very perceivable—he took with him a small bay mare about 4 or 5 years old, her mane trimmed and bob tailed; his cloathing unknown, as he carried off a variety of cloaths; it is probable he has changed his name, as he is a very artful, sensible fellow, he can read tolerably well; it is likely he may hire himself to drive a wrggon, being well acquainted with that business, driving for the army during the war; he also perhaps may have a pass.

The above reward will be given for the aforesaid two negroes, viz. Nanny and Charles, if taken out of the state, or twenty dollars for Nanny and child, if taken in this state, & 20 do. Charles if taken in this state and secured in jail, so as I may get them again. If brought home all reasonable charges shall be paid by me.

AN ACT

LYING [illegible] river, county of Northumberland, state of Virginia; containing about 200 acres—its soil is equal to any other in the Northern Neck, remarkable for every kind of wild fowl, oysters, fish and crab, and none better for health. It is about the same distance from Baltimore, Alexandria and Norfolk, and not more than one day's sail from either. There are three improved plantations with dwelling houses, the one known by the name of Exeter Lodge, formerly the residence of Col. John Gordon, is an elegant two story brick house, with four rooms on a floor, and a passage through each way.

The other two are commodious and conveniently fitted, with good and suitable out houses, at one of which John Murphy, Esq. (now of Westmoreland county) lived several years; on this farm there is a good grist mill, with water sufficient to turn any number of stones, the convenient store houses and granaries on the public road, well situated for a country trade. Orchards of those places there are fine apple and peach orchards. The greater proportion of the land is of the first quality, near the half of the whole heavily timbered. The terms may be known by applying to Wm. P. Tebbs Baleman, Esq. of Richmond county, Virginia, or to Thomas Murgatroyd and Sons, Philadelphia.

IN compliance with the instructions of the Committee [illegible] the city, and with my own inclination, every possible admittance and information has been given to those citizens who have visited the Works during their progress. The Engines are now arrived, and as immediately to be put up, and it is hoped that it will be thought reasonable and just, both to the Public, and to the Contractors for the Engines, that the workmen should not be interrupted. As a very few months will fully gratify the curiosity of the citizens, by shewing them the Engines in full operation, a temporary exclusion of all visitors from the Engine houses cannot appear improper.

THE LAY PREACHER.

"In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, shamefacedness and sobriety."

THE speculations of the moralist upon dress will be viewed as important when considered as regarding an object which indicates, with no trifling accuracy, the manners of a people. In a luxurious age, it has, therefore, often been the province of the satirist to expose its absurdities; and, however its mystic, from evident foolishness and indecency in this department, it is forcibly designated prevailing vitiation of taste and corruption of morals.

The fashion and practice of the day call loudly for an enforcement of the precept of the Apostle; and the manners of our time demand, that the fair be exhorted to "adorn themselves in modest apparel." So perverse is the prevailing taste, as to warrant the prediction, that unless the dress of the female revert to a stricter consonance with the long established ideas of modesty, the standard itself will be lost; and no criterion be known but from the variable voice of capricious fashion. A silent and constant encroachment has already worn deeply upon feeling and opinion; and we have been gradually brought to regard, with coldness and indifference, spectacles, which, in the days of good Queen Bess, would have been considered as outraging all sense of propriety.

Where the semblance of [illegible]ing, there is strong ground to presume the absence of the virtue itself. If the female regard not its display in her outward appearance, it may be inferred, that she has become wholly estranged from its influence. For, this is, confessedly, the last stage in the abandonment of modesty; and when audacity has become so consummate, as avowedly to contemn even the specious appearance of a compliance with its dictates, it may well be concluded, that the unnatural parent has stifled its voice, or become deaf to its gentle suggestions. What shall we say then?—Is there virtue in the woman, who artfully seeks to display the rich luxuriance of nature's charms, at the hazard and expence of sporting with all claim to chaste appearance? Is there not corruption in the heart of her, who sets at naught the sentiments and feelings, which have been consecrated by lengthened currency and habitual observance? Is there worth in the female, who tramples upon what what she has herself been educated to revere as good decorum, at the capricious instance of an idle fashion-monger? These questions are important, though they will pass unregarded by the pitiable being, who, in the whirl of giddiness and frivolity, has lost reflection.

It is a subject of no small astonishment, that modes and fashions should be so readily and indiscriminately adopted, without regard to their origin or use. A despicable courtezan, who commands the gallantries of a vitiated capital, is often known to lead one half the female world by her fantastic whimsies. Generated by the artifice or fancy of a wanton, to subserve the views of sensual conquest, a new fashion speedily obtains extensive currency, is transported to a distant land, and by a blind adoption, ensured by novelty, degrades the form and confines of virtue. It cannot but create surprize, that "we are such stuff," as to pride ourselves in habiliments, whose only excellence is recency of invention, and whose origin is from no higher source than a harlot's brain.

An observer of the successive changes and revolutions in female apparel, which occur in modern days, might naturally conclude, that the recent innovations in dress were not produced by Lucrecian virtue. They are at too great variance from the old fashioned manners and habits of our virtuous ancestors; and, respecting their design, they speak for themselves a language, which stupidity cannot fail to apprehend. If it be the effect of refinement, that the belle exchanges the "modest apparel, which was wont to "adorn" her sex, for Paphian dresses, befitting a Gallic Goddess of Reason, let its progress be stayed ere we are refined into downright savages.

There is no small entertainment to be derived from the ingenuity, displayed in advocating the use and convenience of the multifarious form and diversified appearance which fashion gives to the female. Fashion is, indeed, a changeful and imperious mistress. Convenience, and even necessity, is controlled by her dictates. At her command, the frame of delicacy requires to be clad in nought but the finest productions of the looms of India. In a day, her fickle temper changes the mandate, and the freezing Icelander is not wrapped more cautiously in his native fur, than is the chill female in the rough habit of the wintry north. In short, there is no invention in dress, which is not advocated by the clearest logic, and its grossest contrarieties are defended by respective use, beauty and convenience.

In exhorting the fair to "adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety," I shall embrace with readiness the friendly hint of a genuine critic upon life and manners, to touch upon a prevalent "cheating, uncleanly and unhealthy practice." The mischiefs of face painting have been amply experienced, and its evils [illegible] been repeatedly detailed; but the custom extends with an alarming progress. Still do the dupes of fashion continue this unseemly practice, by which the rosy cheek of health is wasted to the paleness of disease; and natures' fairest red is defiled or counterfeited, by a daubed covering of rouge. If even factitious charms were produced by this wretched attempt at deception, the miserable beings who make it might perhaps be pitied and excused. But the practice is equally glaring and ineffectual, for not even a child mistakes a painted face for beauty. And the world at once sets down a painted woman either as a hag, who thus seeks to conceal her deformity, or as a fool, sporting with real charms and sacrificing a rich possession. Herein our days are not distinguishable from the times of Butlers knight of "passing worth," since now

"As pirates all false colours wear,
T' intrap th' unwary mariner.
So women, to surprise us, spread
The borrow'd flags of white and red;
Display 'em thicker on their cheeks,
Than their old grandmothers, the Picts;
And raise more devils with their looks,
Than conjurer's less subtle books."

Indeed, to such an astonishing pitch of extravagance have the modern decorations of the head been carried, that the van-leader in fashion's troop need only the addition of a ring in the nose, to make the embellishment à la savage compleat.

Let the circles of gaiety be viewed, and the raging taste for scanty cloathing be regarded, and no doubt will remain of the propriety of my exhortation. Let the bare bosom and fashionable frippery be observed, which signalize the modest female, whose most exalted powers are limited to

"Lay trains of amorous intrigues,
"In tow'rs, and curls, and perriwigs," and there will be obvious an urgent necessity of persuading the fair, to "adorn themselves in modest apparel." Let the reddened cheeks and noses of the painted beings be glanced at, and the admonition in my text will be soberly and universally assented to,—that "women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety."

LITERARY INTELLIGENCE.

An edition of that invaluable work, the Purſuits of Literature, after having been procraſtinated too long, is at length undertaken by two perſons, worthy to print a claſſical poem. Meſſrs. Dickins and Maxwell have commenced the publication, and it will ſhortly appear from their beautiful preſs. It will actually be printed on better paper, and with fairer types than thoſe employed by Becket in his Engliſh edition. Of ſeven editions it will contain all the progreſſive additions and improvements, together with the author's tranſlation of the numerous claſſical quotations, &c. and will be ſold for two dollars, the ſterling price in the city of London for the original. As this is a work, little known in America, and from its high caſt, exuberance of learning, and profundity of remark, reſtrained to the ſtudies of the Few, it may not be amiſs to ſtate, briefly, ſome particulars, reſpecting the Author and the ſcope of this poem. The Poet, who has in this work, reſounded with "hallowed voice" the praiſe of ancient literature, and OLD FASHIONED PRINCIPLES, has affected the ſhyneſs of Junius, and ſtriven hard to remain, not inglorious, but ſafe, behind the ſhield of ſecrecy. This care, it appears, has been fruſtrated; and it is now well known that the author is Mr. MATTHIAS, a clerk in the Queen's Treaſury. He ſeems, to have been from infancy an indefatigable reader of all kinds of good books;—to be equally familiar with the ſonorous Iliad and the melliſluous Mantuan; to have accuſtomed his ear to the ſolemn dignity of the Spaniſh, and the gay vivacity of the French tongue, and to have read with equal diligence the epics of Spain and Italy, the Cantos of Arioſto, and the ſonnets of Petrarch. Nor is his extenſive range through all the departments of uſeful and brilliant literature his higheſt praiſe. He appears, every where to be a good man, as well as a fine writer. He is an implacable foe to French principles, abhors revolution, venerates eſtabliſhments, exhorts to "whatſoever things are pure." He has no reſemblance to Condorcet or Briſſot. He "holds no fellowſhip with their deeds of darkneſs." He does not labor, like the vain and vaporing Scioliſts of France and America, to degrade Greek and Roman literature from their proud elevation. Conſcious of the manifold ſervice, which the claſſics render to ſentiment and to ſtyle, to the heart and the head, he applauds the ancients, in lines which the ancients themſelves would not diſown. Of the neceſſary, immutable and uſeful diſtinction of ranks in ſociety he is a zealous aſſerter. He does not dream that a king is nothing more than Louis Capet, and that a Queen is an ordinary Elizabeth or Mary. To the ariſtocracy of wealth, talents and virtue he does not "bow popularly low," but reſpectfully courteous, and cheerfully pays his tribute unto Cæſar.

The principles of the univerſity of Oxford, the decency and dignity of the Engliſh church, the high toned doctrines of Biſhop Horſley, "the ſtate, the laws, the altar and the throne" are in the front of his themes. Hence, to "the rabble rout" of philoſophers, atheiſts, clippers of conſtitutions, and coiners of treaſon, to diſſenting hawkers of illumination, to Kotzbue with his ſenſual ſcenes, to Holcroft with his traitorous novels, to Thelwall with his Poiſſarde voice, to Wakefield with his lying libels and to Prieſtley with his Birmingham ware, braſſy, brittle and baſe, he is a gallant and perſevering enemy. Such an union of vigorous verſe and pure principles, ſuch a maſs of learning, moſt laudably exerted, ſuch moral doctrine, and ſuch cauſtic wit ſhould enſure to the author the moſt lively applauſe. His objects are of the higheſt kind. He is no ordinary ſcribbler, ſervile to baſeneſs and vulgarity. In the words of Sir Thomas Smyth, "he bears the port, charge and countenance of a gentleman," and might be deſervedly claſſed by a Horace Walpole in the catalogue of noble authors. He writes from the liberal views of an Engliſh gentleman, and his Poem, as he informs us in the threſhold of his undertaking "was written upon no private motive whatſoever, but ſimply and ſolely as the conduct of the perſons mentioned or alluded to, or the manner of their compoſitions, or the principles of their writings tend to influence and affect the LEARNING, the GOVERNMENT, the RELIGION, the PUBLIC MORALITY, the PUBLIC HAPPINESS, and the PUBLIC SECURITY OF THE NATION." He is a bold, and well principled writer. He ſpeaks harſhly, but he ſpeaks truth. In his own words

——"He ſwells no venal voice
In the full freedom of a Briton's choice
Cenſure or praiſe let others ſeek or fear:
Look at my verſe, the ſuperſcription there,
The cauſe that I defend; 'tis yours, 'tis mine,
The ſtateſman's and the peaſant's. In my line
All find in me a patron and a friend
Unſeen, unknown, unſhaken to the end.
Yes, from the depths of Pindus ſhall my rymes
Through this miſorder'd world, theſe lawleſs times
Be heard in Albion and her inmoſt ſtate;—
All that the good revere and bad men hate
In ſpirit and in ſubſtance, as of old.
The Muſe in her Aſbeſtos ſhall enfold.
Octavius, yes, it is, it ſhall be mine,
With praiſe appropriate ſtill to grace my line,
To mark where GENIUS ſoars, beyond control
With Maotuan judgment and the Theban ſoul.
Correct, majeſtic, copious, full and ſtrong,
In arts, in arms, in eloquence, or ſong,
Still proud to vindicate unſeen, unknown
The ſtate, the laws, the altar and the throne."

In conformity to his profeſſions, he is a ſtrenuous defender of government, and a humble worſhipper at the ſhrine of Chriſtianity. His lines on the union of poeſy and piety evince the ſterling goodneſs of the author.

"How ſweet the charm that ſenſe to virtue binds.
The SOCIAL SYMPATHY OF LEARNED MINDS,
The common intereſt, univerſal cauſe,
And all that Piety to Genius draws.
How ſweet to hear on the Parnaſſian mount,
Mild waters welling from the ſacred fount;
Oh, never may Caſtalia's ſtreams divide
From Siloa's brook, and Jordan's hallow'd tide."

It is a curious circumſtance in the hiſtory of Mr. Matthias that from the duties of the deſk, and the dry rolls of diplomacy he could turn with ſuch verſatility to innumerable pages of ancient lore, and miſcellaneous writing: that he is both a uſeful and favored officer, and an ingenious and learned writer. The example is ſalutary to liberal and aſpiring youth. They may learn that if they forſake "the primroſe path of dalliance" and to genius add induſtry, and to induſtry, perſeverance, and to perſeverance, lively hope, and to lively hope, alacrity; thay may conjoin the uſeful and the brilliant, and find time to diſcharge various and claſhing duties. From the hiſtory of this man's life and writings it will likewiſe be diſcerned that true literary glory, and a ſtill higher renown, the praiſe of high duties well diſcharged reſult from a reverence for claſſical learning, an ardent attachment to letters in general, a cloſe ſtudy of long approved models, reſpect for government and laws and hatred of all thoſe projects of innovation, which Milton expreſſively calls "new fangled foolery." For all this Mr. Matthias appears eminent; and grounded in ſuch principles, and taking a large and liberal view of literature and of life, he has produced a work, which will live, perhaps as long as thoſe ancients, with whoſe ſpirit he appears ſo thoroughly imbued. We exhort the liberal ſtudents and gentlemen of our country to read and remember this Poem. It will not teach them the arts of peddling, nor ſuggeſt ſchemes to overreach the Bermudians. It will not inſpire hatred of England and love of France, but will teach them to ſoar above avarice, to cheriſh learning, to ſupport government, et ſpernere vulgus.

Mr. James Humphreys, to whoſe good judgment the public are indebted lately for the re publication of two valuable religious tracts from the pens of the pious Edward King, and of the chriſtian champion, the Biſhop of Rocheſter, has in the preſs an edition of Park's travels into the interior of Africa. This is a good book, and the "Travel's hiſtory," which it contains, was the fruit of the intrepidity, ſcientific curioſity, courage, and addreſs of an amiable Scotch ſurgeon, whoſe character and talents, the inquiſitive may find very favorably deſcribed in the firſt vol. of the European magazine for 1799, a well conducted miſcellany. The ingenuity and perſevereance of the North Briton are well known, and the liberality of the South Briton is no leſs conſpicuous. In the caſe of Mr. Park, the talents and exertions of the one were encouraged from the purſe of the other.—The Royal African Society "furniſhed him forth;" grateful ſcience and liberal rewards, and public favor greeted his return. Wealth cheerfully gave from its ſtore to genius, and among a generous people, the juſt reward for uſeful exertion was neither aſked nor beſtowed in the beggarly ſpirit of date obolum Beliſario. This is ſtrange doctrine to the diſciples of Ben Franklin, and to the ſmall, ſpeculating, huckſtering pedlar wherever the muck worm makes his hole. Theſe wretched men have no clearer viſion of munificence and generoity than "the poor beetle that we tread upon;" than the darkling grub, ſunken in the ſoil, has of the "wide effulgence of a ſummer day."—— Mr. Hawkins a traveller, and a lover of letters, has commenced at Boſton, the publication of a monthly journal, which he calls the "Columbian Phœnix and Boſton Review." The firſt number for January has been received, and ſhall be candidly noticed by one, who well knows, from bitter experience, the numberleſs obſtacles, which thwart the progreſs of a man of letters in America. The editor of this magazine has a peculiar claim to tenderneſs and favorable criticiſm, not only for the propriety of his plan, and the reſpectability of his literary acquirements, but from the circumſtance of his laboring under the complicated evils of blindneſs and adverſity. We ſhall, therefore, ſpeak of his work in the ſpirit of that charity which is kind. It is another brilliant proof of the energy of the mental powers and moſt honorable to Mr. H. that he is not blind at the lamp of literature, and that with MILTON, he may ſpeak of the abſence of light and the preſence of the muſe.

Though thou
Reviſit'ſt not theſe eyes, that roll in vain
To find thy piercing ray, and find no dawn;
So thick a drop ſerene hath quench'd their orbs,
Or dim ſuffuſion veil'd. Yet not the more
Ceaſe I to wander where the Muſes haunt
Clear ſpring, or ſhady grove, or ſunny hill.

VIVAT RESPUBLICA.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

FRIDAY, March 14.

The bill for removing troops for places of holding election, was read a third time and paſſed; and the title declared to be "An act to prevent the interference of any Military force in certain elections."

The bill intituled "An act to alter the times of holding the Diſtrict Court in North Carolina," was read a third time and paſſed.

The houſe took up the amendment of the Senate to the bill allowing a drawback of duties on goods exported to New Orleans, and therein to amend the act regulating the collection of duties on imports and tonnage," and diſagreed to the ſame, only five members voting in favour of it.

The Senate propoſed to inſert "from and after the tenth day of April next," thereby fixing the operation of the act from that period.

Mr. Speaker laid before the Houſe a letter from the Secretary of War, incloſing a report on the ſeveral petitions referred to him of ſundry perſons of the ſtate of Georgia, who prayed compenſation for Military Services rendered the United States.

The report was committed to a committee of the whole houſe, and made the order of the day for Monday next.

Mr. Harper ſaid, it had been repreſented to him, that there was conſiderable defect in the law requiring the payment of money from the Collectors of the Revenue into the Treaſury; that the Secretary felt himſelf very much inconvenienced, and was frequently trifled with by theſe officers, from whom there exiſted no ſufficient compulſory means to enforce payment; he therefore moved the following reſolution:

Reſolved, That a committee be appointed to enquire and report by bill or otherwiſe, whether any and what further proviſions are neceſſary to be made by law, for compelling the receivers of public money to account for and pay over the ſame.—Carried.

Mr. Jones ſaid, the law regulating intercourſe with the Indian tribes, had been found to operate very oppreſſively on individuals in the ſtate of Georgia, and expenſively to the United States, as the trial of offenders under that act muſt be had before one of the Judges of the Supreme Court of Georgia, who reſided at the diſtance of 150 miles from the frontiers, where offences under this act are committed; and muſt be conveyed for ſuch trial under an eſcort of U. S. Troops, however trivial and harmleſs the offence may be, and ſlight the puniſhment preſcribed for it. Suppoſing, as he did, that the inferior courts were competent to execute the proviſions of the act, Mr. Jones moved the following reſolution, with a view to that effect, viz.

Reſolved, That a committee be appointed to enquire and report whether any, and if any what alterations are expedient in the law for regulating trade and intercourſe with the Indian tribes, and for preſerving peace on the frontiers; and that they have leave to report by bill or otherwiſe.

Ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. D. Foſter, from the committee of claims, made an unfavourable report on the petition of——Somerville, which was committed for Monday next.

Mr. Leib preſented a petition of Jacob Dager, a waggoner in the continental ſervice, praying compenſation; and alſo a petition of Jacob Dieman, a ſoldier during the revolutionary war, praying to be placed on the penſion liſt—which were referred to the committee of claims.

Mr Sumpter preſented a petition of John Brown, ſtating, that by a legacy left a certain ſociety, for the purpoſe of the annual importation of books to the value of 50l. to be diſtributed gratis among the poor, he had incurred payment of duty thereon, and praying that Congreſs would grant him an order on the Collector of the port of Charleſton, for monies already paid, and that all future importations as aforeſaid, may be free of duty.

Referred to the Committee of Commerce and Manufactures.

Mr. Harriſon, from the ſelect committee appointed on the ſubject of public lands, reported a bill to amend the act, intituled an act to provide for ſelling the lands of the United States in the territory N. W. of the river Ohio, and above the mouth of Kentucky river; which was read a firſt and ſecond time, and committed for Monday next.

Mr. Harriſon preſented a letter from Governor St. Clair, incloſing a petition of a number of the inhabitants of the county of Knox, in the territory N. W. of the river Ohio, praying a diviſion of ſaid territory; which were read, and ordered to be printed.

Gr. Griſwold, from the ſelect committee to whom was referred the petition of ſundry aliens, reſident in Mount Pleaſant, ſtate of New-York, praying an exemption from the operation of the Naturalization law, and to be allowed to make their declaration under the act in force prior to its paſſing; the committee are of opinion, that the prayer of the petitioners ought not to be granted.

The report was made a firſt and ſecond time, and committed for Monday next.

The Houſe went into committee of the whole on the report of the ſelect committee, to whom was referred the petition of Cato Weſt, and others, of the Miſſiſippi territory; when the reſolutions authoriſing the eſtabliſhment of a legiſlature, &c. in that territory, were agreed to, with amendments, and a bill ordered to be brought in purſuant thereto.

The bill to fix the compenſation of the Pay Maſter General, and of the Aſſiſtant to the Adjutant General, was taken up in committee of the whole, agreed to and ordered to be engroſſed and read a third time on Monday next.

On motion of Mr. S. Smith, the Houſe came to the following reſolution:

Reſolved, That a committee be appointed to enquire into the expediency of authoriſing the Secretary of the Treaſury to remit any forfeitures which ſhall occur, or may have occurred, under the laws of the United States prohibiting the exportation of arms and ammunition, under the ſame proviſion which the Secretary is authoriſed to remit for forfeitures incurred under the revenue laws; and that they be authoriſed to report by bill, or otherwiſe.

Mr. H. Lee called up for conſideration, the reſolution which he laid on the table, relative to Poſt Roads; and the houſe having adopted the reſolution, on motion of Mr. Dawſon, thoſe of Mr. Harper, on a ſimilar ſubject, were referred to the ſame committee.

The Houſe went into committee of the whole on the bill to extend the privilege of obtaining patents for uſeful diſcoveries and inventions, to certain perſons therein mentioned, and to enlarge and define the penalties for violating the rights of patentees; when

Mr. Griſwold moved to ſtrike out the firſt ſection of the bill, which provides that an alien after a reſidence of two years, ſhall be entitled to patents for uſeful diſcoveries and inventions, &c.

Meſſrs. Harper, Smith, Rutledge and Otis, oppoſed this motion, and Meſſrs. Kittera and Griſwold ſpoke in favour of it; and contended that foreigners might, under this ſection of the bill, obtain a complete monopoly of the whole American market. After ſome obſervations from Mr. Otis, who wiſhed an amendment might be introduced which ſhould provide that the patent to be granted to any alien ſhould continue to his benefit during his reſidence in this country only—the committee roſe, reported progreſs and obtained leave to ſit again.

The Houſe went into Committee of the whole on the report of the ſelect committee on the petition of John Mountjoy; and the reſolution reported by the committee, authoriſing the proper officers to iſſue a land warrant to ſaid Mountjoy in lieu of one ſaid to be loſt, Meſſrs. D. Foſter and Macon oppoſed it, and wiſhed to make a general queſtion whether all warrants loſt or deſtroyed, ought to be renewed.

Mr. Griſwold was of the ſame opinion, and moved that the committee riſe, for the purpoſe of having this petition, and all others of a ſimilar nature referred to a ſelect committee, with inſtructions to report on the expediency of paſſing a general law on the ſubject.

The Committee having roſe, and leave refuſed to ſit again, the propoſition of Mr. G. was adopted, and the committee inſtructed by a reſolution of the houſe, to inquire into the expediency of authoriſing the Secretary of War to iſſue to the officers and ſoldiers of the continental army, warrants for bounty lands, which may have been obtained from the war-office by fraud, or may have been loſt or deſtroyed.

Adjourned till Monday.

Legiſlature of Pennſylvania.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Monday, February 24.

The houſe met purſuant to adjournment.

A letter ſigned Samuel W. Fiſher, addreſſed to the Speaker, was read as follows, viz.

SIR,

EVER tenacious of the dignity of the Houſe and unconſcious of having ſought for an occaſion of diſpute with any member in it, I did not expect a complaint to be exhibited againſt me by George Logan.

Doctor Logan has ſtated as much of the tranſaction, about which he has complained, as ſuited his own purpoſe; but I think it due to the houſe and to myſelf, that the whole of the matter ſhould come before them. I believe it will then appear that a greater cauſe of complaint exiſts on my part, than on the part of the doctor.

I would not trouble the houſe for a moment, on a ſubject which I had conſidered merely as a perſonal one, if it were not eſſential to repel the idea of my being the aggreſſor.

It will be recollected that on the evening alluded to, I had been repeatedly interrupted in debate, contrary to the uſual practice of the Houſe, by calls to adjourn. Finding it uſeleſs longer to reſiſt the deſign of the interrupting Members, I did on the third call, as the Speaker may recollect, ſit down with the remark, that I believed it would be beſt for the Houſe to adjourn.—The Houſe then adjourned.

Paſſing from my ſeat towards the door, I obſerved Mr. Frailey on my right hand, and ſaid good humouredly "you dare not ſtay to hear argument," to which he replied with equal temper, "you are miſtaken, we will meet you in argument any time," ſo we were paſſing each other, when I heard Doctor Logan ſay, "It is not becauſe we fear argument, but becauſe we will not liſten to your nonſenſe, (or d—d nonſenſe,) that we will adjourn." I ſtarted with a degree of ſurpriſe, at this rude and unprovoked ſalutation, and turning, aſked if that language was intended for me. He ſaid "yes," in an angry tone, and in a manner expreſſive of determined inſult, my reply was, "then you are a puppy," he rejoined "you are a d—d raſcal," on which without time to think I gave him a blow.

In a moment I found myſelf preſſed towards the door, by a croud of members who came up, and as I was preſſed backwards, I received three blows in the face by Doctor Logan's hands. The members by this time had intervened, and I loſt ſight of him. I take the liberty therefore to complain that for language (not perſonal) uſed in my place on the floor of the houſe, I was wantonly queſtioned, and abuſed in unhandſome and groſs terms, and in an angry and menacing manner by George Logan, a member of this houſe, after the houſe had adjourned, and without the ſhadow of provocation on my part.

As the houſe have deemed it proper to take cognizance of the buſineſs, I requeſt them to diſpoſe of this letter as to them may ſeem juſt.

I am, &c.

STATIONER,
No. 17 South Second Street,

HAMILTON's ELIXIR,
A SOVEREIGN REMEDY

For Colds, obstinate Coughs, Catarrhs, Asthmas, Sore-throats, and approaching Consumptions.

THOUSANDS are too well acquainted with the nature and effects of empirical medicines daily offered for the cure of the above complaints; dear bought experience has taught them that oily and heating medicines joined with strong opiates (or sleepy drugs) repeated doses of which, flatter and deceive the patient for the present, by procuring momentary ease; experience, I say, has taught thousands that the common opiates and balsams, as they are called, finally aggravate every disorder of the breast and lungs in their most distressing symptoms; that they load the stomach and impair the digestion, inflame the whole system, increase the difficulty of breathing, and excite fever.—But the qualities of this valuable discovery are evinced by perfectly opposite effects. A SINGLE TRIAL WILL PROVE that it restores the determination of the fluids to the surface of the body, and brings on the common, healthful perspiration; that it dislodges and evacuates the tough, viscid phlegm, or mucus, strengthens the weakened vessels of the lungs, sheathes the acrimonious humours which irritate the lungs, and finally discharges them. Thus striking at the root of the disorder, the symptoms are of course, effectually and permanently conquered, the reverse of common medicines, which weaken the constitution and give strength to the disorder, for the sake of moderating for the present, some of its painful effects.

TO PARENTS
Who may have Children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH.

This discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable; the Elixir is so perfectly agreeable and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking it.

DR. HAMILTON'S
Genuine Essence and Extract of MUSTARD.

For Rheumatisms, Gout, Palsey, Sprains, &c. a great number of attested cures may be seen at the place of sale. Dr. Hamilton's Grand Restorative for constitutions debilitated by intemperance of any kind; and for the cure of Nervous Complaints, Inward Weakness, Obstinate Gleets, Fluor Albus in women, &c.

Hamilton's justly celebrated Worm Lozenges, the infallible Itch Ointment, Dr. Leroux's Indian Vegetable Specific for Venereal Complaints, Ague and Fever Drops which had never failed effecting a cure, Dr. Hahn's Antibilious Pill, ditto Corn Plaister, the Persian Lotion for the face and skin, Gowland's Lotion, Church's Cough Drops, Anderson's Pills

THE DAMASK LIP SALVE

Is recommended (particularly to the Ladies) as an elegant and pleasant preparation for chopped and sore lips, and every blemish and inconvenience occasioned by colds, fevers, &c. speedily restoring a beautiful rosy colour and delicate softness to the lips.

THE RESTORATIVE POWDER
FOR THE TEETH AND GUMS.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, absorbing all that acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

☞ Those who wish to procure the medicines genuine, must apply ONLY as above.

Wholesale purchasers will receive a liberal allowance by application to LEE & Co. Baltimore, who have obtained the general agency for the United States.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.
March 11th, 1799.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, Pursuant to the act of Congress passed on the 1st day of June, one thousand, seven hundred and ninety six, entitled "an act regulating the grants of land appropriated for military services, and for the society of United Brethren for propagating the gospel among the Heathen;" and the act supplementary to the said recited act passed on the second day of March, one thousand seven hundred and ninety nine——to wit:

I.

THAT the tract of Land herein after described, namely, "beginning at the North West corner of the seven ranges of townships, and running thence fifty miles due south, along the western boundary of the said ranges;—thence due West to the Main Branch of the Scioto river; thence up the Main Branch of the said river to the place where the Indian boundary line crosses the same;—thence along the said boundary line to the Tuscaroras branch of the Muskingum river at the crossing place above Fort Lawrence; thence down the said river, to the point where a line run due west from the place of beginning, will intersect the said river; thence along the line so run to the place of beginning;" has been divided into townships of five miles square, and fractional parts of townships; and that plats and surveys of the said townships and fractional parts of townships are deposited in the offices of the Register of the Treasury and Surveyor General, for the inspection of all persons concerned.

II.

The holders of such warrants as have been or shall be granted for military services performed during the late war, are required to present the same to the Register of the Treasury, at some time prior to the twelfth day of February in the year, one thousand eight hundred, for the purpose of being registered; No registry will however be made of any less quantity than a quarter townships, or four thousand acres.

III.

The priority of location of the warrants which may be presented and registered in manner aforesaid, prior to the 12th day of February in the year one thousand eight hundred, will immediately after the said day, be determined by lot, in the mode described by the act first recited.

IV.

The holders of registered warrants, shall on Monday the 17th day of February, in the year 1800, in the order of which the priority of location shall be determined by lot as aforesaid, personally, or by their agents, designate in writing at the office of the Register of the Treasury, the particular quarter townships elected by them respectively, and such of the said holders as shall not designate their locations on the said day, shall be postponed in locating such warrants to all other holders of registered warrants.

V.

The holders of warrants for military services sufficient to cover one or more quarter townships or tracts of four thousand acres each; shall, at any time after Monday the 17th day of February, 1800 and prior to the first day of January, 1802, be allowed to register the said warrants in manner aforesaid, and forthwith to make locations therefor on any tract or tracts of land not before located.

VI.

All warrants or claims for lands on account of military services, which shall not be registered and located before the first day of January, 1802, are by the supplementary act of Congress herein before recited, passed on the second day of March, 1799, declared to be forever barred.

Given under my hand at Philadelphia, the day and year above mentioned.

OLIVER WOLCOTT.
Sec. of the Treasury.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.
May 29th, 1799.

THE proprietors of certificates issued for subscriptions to the Loan bearing interest at eight per centum per annum, are notified, that at any time after payment shall have been made of the 5th instalment, which will become due during the first ten days of the month of July ensuing, Certificates of Funded Stock may at their option be obtained at the Treasury or Loan Offices, respectively, for the amount of the four first instalments, or one moiety of the sums expressed in the subscription certificates:—No certificates of Funded Stock will however be issued for less than one hundred dollars.

Such subscription certificates as may be presented at the Treasury or Loan Offices in consequence of the foregoing arrangement, will be indorsed and distinctly marked so as to denote, that a moety of the stock has been issued.

OLIVER WOLCOTT,
Secretary of the Treasury.

For Nervous Disorders, Female Complaints, Gout in the Stomach, Melancholy, Seminal Weakness, loss of Appetite, Bilious Disorders, Inward Weaknesses, Indigestion, Obstinate Gleets, Juvenile Indiscretions and Premature Old Age, and every other symptom of extreme debility, which are the consequences of a Dissipated Life—excess of Pleasure or Grief—Heat or change of Climate—Immoderate use of Tea, Spirituous Liquors, or any Intemperance—Bad Lyings-in—Diseases incident to Young Girls and Women at a certain period of life—

The Cordial Restorative Balsam

Is recommended as a Medicine of specific and unparalleled virtues for the immediate relief and speedy and permanent cure of the above disorders, having stood a trial of many successful years, during which period many thousands of both sexes have been restored from the brink of the grave.

This Balsam is particularly adapted to weak female constitutions, as well as to phlegmatic habits in general; it acts powerfully as a nervine, not only to the weak stomach, but to the whole nervous system! corrects a vitiated appetite and digestion in the first passages, and assists wonderfully in recovering the tone of the urinary and genital organs:—Hence its efficacy in the most obstinate seminal gleets in men, and corresponding weaknesses in women; and hence it will contribute more safely, surely and honourably towards conjugal happiness, than any of those irritating, diabolical compositions, which are so shamefully administered to the unwary.

It is earnestly recommended to those ladies, who from repeated and difficult labours are afflicted with weaknesses and infirmities; in which cases it is highly useful, strengthening at the same time the stomach, the back, the weakened organs, and the whole constitution.

Those, who in advanced life, feel the consequences of youthful excess, or unfortunate youth, who have brought on themselves a numerous train of evils, will by the use of this find themselves restored to health and strength, and all the melancholy symptoms removed, which are the general effects of such causes.

For whether the system has received a shock, and is debilitated from imprudence or inattention in the earliest part of life, or is sinking under the advance of years, a few doses of this medicine will afford immediate assurance of returning health and strength, by giving tone to the muscular system, and organs of digestion, and by renovating the whole constitution.

To the young it will afford lasting health, strength and spirits, in place of lassitude and debility: and to the aged and infirm, it will assuredly furnish great relief and comfort, by gently and safely invigorating the system; but if it be in the power of medicine to gild the autumn of declining years, and calmly and serenely protract the close of life beyond its narrow span, this Restorative is capable of effecting that grand desideratum.

Constitutions relaxed, weak or decayed, in men or women, are under the immediate influence of this Restorative.

Old coughs soon relieved and speedily cured.

Poverty of blood and emaciated limbs, will ere long meet the happiest change; the chill watery fluid become rich and balsamic, and the limbs be covered with flesh, firm and healthful.

It will no doubt be acceptable to the reader, to see accounts of some of the remarkable cases and cures which have been performed by this truly invaluable medicine, in the disorders for which it was invented; he has therefore selected a few of such cases as have come within his own immediate knowledge, which are published and may be had (gratis) at any of the places where the medicine is sold.

Prepared (only) by the Inventor and sole Proprietor, Dr. James Church, at his Dispensary, 137, Front street, near the Fly-market, New-York—and sold by Messrs. H. & P. Rice, 16, South Second Street, Philadelphia.
